Nobel und kraftvoll zugleich, für Pinard de Picard ganz nahe an der Idealnote und damit DIE Provokation für die wesentlich teureren Premier Crus!

Robert Parker: „Medium to deep garnet in color, the 2009 Saint-Pierre displays maturing notes of crème de cassis, blackberry pie and prunes with hints of cardamom, fennel and star anise. Full-bodied, concentrated and jam-packed with black fruit preserves and fantastic freshness to balance, it has a firm, grainy texture and very long, exotic spice finish. Zu trinken: 2019-2049. 96 Punkte!“

VINOUS, Neal Martin: „The 2009 Saint-Pierre knocks the ball out of the park. It is a stunning Saint-Julien that has blossomed in recent years. I must confess that none of the previous bottles intimated the potential shown here. It is more compact, tighter on the nose than its peers, opening seductively with gorgeous graphite and bayleaf infused black fruit, real mineralité and great tension. The palate is medium-bodied with supple tannin, juicy to the point where it belies the backbone, very nicely poised with a precise and long graphite finish. Ducru-Beaullou and Léoville Las-Cases - here is your challenger to the crown. Tasted blind at Farr Vintners' 2009 Bordeaux tasting. 96 Punkte!“
